

meal plan

第 1 题

Why does the woman go to see the director?

- A To ask which meal plans are available to her the following year
- B To ask about a refund for the unused meals in her current meal plan
- C To ask if she can cancel her meal plan contract
- D To ask if her meal plan covers food for guests

第 2 题

What does the man imply about the parents of first-year students?

- A They would prefer that their children have too many meals rather than too few.
- B They sometimes get confused about how the university's meal plans work.
- C They often complain about the high cost of their children's meal plans.
- D They would prefer that their children make their own meal arrangements.

第 3 题

According to the director, what is the policy concerning meal plans for third and fourth years?

- A They do not have to buy a meal plan.
- B They may invite more than fifteen guests to eat on their meal plan.
- C They may buy any meal plan that the university offers.
- D They are not allowed to buy a meal plan if they live off campus.

第 4 题

Why does the man mention the student's friends?

- A To find out if they are having a similar problem
- B To suggest a way for the student to use her extra meals
- C To point out that most students are satisfied with their meal plans
- D To suggest that the student join a campus organization

第 5 题

How does the student feel about talking to the dean?

- A She really wants to see the dean immediately about a refund.
- B She is rather shy to such an important person.
- C She is reluctant to spend time to go see the dean now.
- D She is concerned that the dean will be too busy at this time of year.

【L1-1】 Listen to a conversation between a student and a dining services director.

S: Hi. I don't know what my parents were thinking. They sort of went overboard and bought me the plan of 235 meals a semester.

D: Well, I bet they were probably thinking that this is your first year of college and that you'd have plenty to think about without having to worry about food. It's pretty common for first year students.

S: It is?

D: Yeah, and most students will try to cut down on their plans in the second year.

S: My first year is almost done. And I wanna go for the smallest plan available next year. What are my choices?

D: Well, besides the 235 what you have this year, we got the 190.

S: What about the 95 meal plan?

D: Oh, that's only for 3rd and 4th year students.

S: I don't understand. Only juniors and seniors?

D: It's based on the idea that juniors and seniors have other dining options. You know, some move off campus. Others join clubs that provide certain meals on a regular basis. As you know, most of these clubs aren't open to younger students.

S: I think it makes a certain kind of sense. But still... Anyway, I guess I'll have to go with the 195 meal plan. I mean, if that's the smallest plan available for me. I was hoping I'd be able to eat out a lot more next year.

D: Well, just one more year and then you'll be free to do whatever you want. Juniors and seniors aren't required to buy any meal plan. They buy one only if they want to.

S: OK. I guess I can deal with that. But my real question is I still got about 60 meals left on this year's plan. So I'd like to know if I could carry them over.

D: Carried them over? You mean like if you can use them for the next year?

S: Yeah, I mean, see, I didn't use 'em, and they've been paid for already.

D: I'm sorry you can't do that.

S: How about... well... can't the price of those leftover meals... I mean... can it be deducted from next year's charges or something?

D: No, according to our policy, we do not provide credit for unused meals.

S: Well, is there any way to get a refund then?

D: No, I'm sorry. We don't provide credits or refunds.

S: So, what am I supposed to do now? How am I supposed to eat 60 meals in two weeks?

D: Well, you can invite your friends or guests... as many as 15 people on your particular plan. Why not show your generosity? Make the most of it.

S: But all my friends have their own meal plans... and probably the same plan I have with more meals than they know what to do with. It seems like a waste of money if there's no refund.

D: I understand how you feel. But there's nothing I can do for you. Maybe you could talk to the dean, if you feel that strongly.

S: You know. I really should. But I don't have the time right now with all my school work and stuff. I don't know. Maybe later I'll ask the dean if the meal plan policy could be made more flexible.

{"1": ["A", "B"], "2": ["A"], "3": ["A", "C"], "4": ["B"], "5": ["C"]}